October 1966

Mother nature has been outdoing herself this past few weeks, painting the woodlands with vivid colors. Week-end visitors are still coming in large numbers, to enjoy "Indian Summer" on Beaver Island. Early fall winds have kept Lake Michigan stirred up to all but stop the pleasure boat traffic, that reached it's peak in August.

GAME NEWS: The first day of October officially opened the season for hunting small game and for the bow hunters, deer are legal quarry. In promoting Island hunting, one hates to mention when game is down, for in recent past seasons all game has been on the high end of the scale. This year, however, our rabbit population is down, compared to last season, so it may take a little longer to bag the daily limit of five. Perhaps, the partridge are down some, too, but it is doubtful they are down as far as was earlier suspected. As the leaves fall, the hunting improves and now hunters are putting up more birds.

More archers this year are enjoying ideal weather and some good results. At this writing, the count is six deer that have been taken with bow and arrow.

Next Month we should have something to report about the first turkey season on Beaver Island.

CONVENT FUND GROWING: Efforts to raise money for a new convent for our Dominican Sisters, have now reached a total of $15,014.56. Still some distance from the goal but with continual help, it will be met, so perhaps next year the Sisters will have a new home.

CRANBERRY TIME: This has been an ideal year for the Island Cranberry Crop. The marshes are dry and the berries are plentiful. For some reason cranberries picked in the wild seem to taste a great deal better than those in a cellophane bag.

BUILDING BOOM: This has not only been a busy tourist season, but a busy building season, as well. The new addition on the school is nearing completion. This will mean two new classrooms and one multi-purpose room, plus an office for the principal. Construction is being done by the Don Nelson Construction Company of Detroit. New cottages are popping up throughout the Island as more and more people find the Island their chosen retreat. Dr. Ratliff, of Ann Arbor, is having a unique, double dwelling built on Sand Bay, with an elevated deck surrounding the entire structure. Wojan Construction Company of St. James is doing the building.

Leo Kujawa, who moved to the Island this summer with his family, has been busy building cottages for Erwin Grabow and "Bucky" Vreeland, plus several remodeling jobs.

Perry and Henretta Crawford, owners of the Erin Motel, have contracted Walt Wojan to build a restaurant next to their units. The foundation has just been completed.

Beaver Haven's new boat storage building, is in its final stages of completion, has made quite a change in St. James industrial skyline. Clyde Fogg, who has recently moved to the Island from Holland with his family, is about to erect a steel shop building on the harbor.

We are sure there are several other buildings throughout the Island that have been built this summer, that even we are not aware of.

WHITE HUNTER RETURNS: After a strenuous and busy summer season, Archie LaFreniere took a few days off to do some big game hunting in Wyoming. Accompanied by fellow hunters from Indian River and Cheboygan, the party had a great time and met with success. Archie bagged an Antelope and a good sized Mule Deer, which should put him in good shooting trim for the coming Michigan deer season.
GRAND RAPIDS PARTY NEWS: Over 500 people attended the Grand Rapids Convent Fund Party on the 15th of October. Touted a huge success, a good time was had by all and through donations and tickets, the building fund took a sizeable leap.
The door prize, that consisted of around trip ticket for two and your car on the ferry, plus accommodations, food, refreshments and entertainment, furnished by the various businesses on the Island, was won by Gerard Serrell of Grand Rapids.
The 50 - 50 prize, of over $200.00, was won by Ron Nichols of Caledonia Capt. Mary "Vesty" is our oldest Island resident and we all want to wish her a VERY HAPPY BIRTHDAY.

SCHOOL NEWS: We want to thank Dr. Wells and Mr. Paul Wallace for bringing us a number of movies from the Muskegon Telephone Company. The movies which covered various subjects, such as sports, Michigan History and Ulysses were thoroughly enjoyed by the students of Beaver Island.

Beaver Island is in the midst of a population explosion, if school enrollment figures are any indication.
Sister Kenneth Marie, O.P., reports an enrollment of 75 students this fall, 18 more than the 57 enrolled last year.
Most of the new students are members of five families which moved to the Island over the summer. The school lost only two students through graduation in June.
The Beaver Island Community School is one of the few public schools in the country operated by Catholic Sisters, all of whom are college trained and state licensed. Because of the remoteness of the island, the Board of Education has found it impossible to attract lay teachers.
In addition to Sister Kenneth Marie, O.P., the teaching staff this year consists of Sister Wilma, O.P., Sister Florian, O.P., and Sister Julia Mae, O.P.
